Background

The National Aviation Exploring Committee awards annually multiple sponsored scholarships to encourage Aviation Explorers to enter and complete an aviation curriculum. National Committee Members know that aviation offers a variety of exciting, well-paying careers, and that qualified and motivated aviation Explorers should be given encouragement and assistance in choosing a career in aviation. Through the years, the National Aviation Exploring Committee has been a loyal and generous supporter of projects designed to promote aviation to the general public and especially to the young. This long standing dedication to the aviation community continues with the National Aviation Explorer Scholarship Program.

Qualifications

1. Currently registered and active in an aviation Explorer post
2. Parent or guardian approval if under 18 years of age
3. Three letters of recommendation (i.e. aviation post Advisor, aviation professional, teacher, employer, community leader, etc.)
4. 500 word educational plan showing how you are going to finance your goal for a career in aviation.

How to Apply

An aviation Explorer can apply for multiple sponsored National Aviation Explorer Scholarships by submitting one standard application to the local council Learning for Life office for approval. Scholarships ranging between $3,000 and $10,000 will be presented annually. Student recipients for aviation Explorer scholarships will be selected by members of the National Aviation Exploring Committee. Winners will be notified by mail July 1st. Since applications are not carried over, any previous application can be updated and resubmitted through the local council Learning for Life office.

If scholarship funds are used for flight training in the avionics, pilot, maintenance, or management categories, the flight training must be provided by an FAA Approved Part 141 school or through an accredited college or university in pursuit of a degree leading to an aviation profession.
