

Law Enforcement Exploring Special Recognition Awards

Introduction: The National Law Enforcement Exploring Committee approved at its 10 April 2015 meeting Law Enforcement Exploring Special Recognition Awards for: Valor, Bravery, Lifesaving, and Meritorious Service.

Background: Heretofore, Law Enforcement Exploring did not have any special recognition awards for Explorers who have performed an extraordinary action demonstrating valor, bravery, lifesaving or meritorious service during the course of their Exploring activities or in a personal capacity. The National Law Enforcement Exploring Committee felt it appropriate to honor Explorers that have performed such an action and as a result developed the Special Recognition Awards for Law Enforcement Explorers.

Award Concept: Special Recognition Awards are for Law Enforcement Explorers only; Advisors or other adult leaders who have engaged in the same type of extraordinary action will be recognized through their agency special recognition program or, if a civilian, may be nominated for a lifesaving or meritorious action award through the Boy Scouts of America. The Special Recognition Awards for Law Enforcement Explorers will be administered through the Proficiency Awards and Recognitions subcommittee of the National Law Enforcement Exploring Committee.

Methodology: An Explorer may only receive one Special Recognition Award (the most appropriate one as determined by the circumstances) for each extraordinary action. Each application package will be reviewed by the chair and members of the Proficiency Awards and Recognitions subcommittee who will determine which award, if any, will be issued. The Special Recognition Awards for Valor, Bravery, Lifesaving, and Meritorious Service are made only for unusual acts that demonstrate heroism, skill, or courageousness, and reflect the high ideals of Law Enforcement Exploring. These awards are not of the type to be sought, but rather are presented as a result of proactive actions taken in response to a spontaneous situation that required an immediate response using good judgment and proper procedure. In no case will an award be granted for actions that are determined to be pre-planned; calculated; artificially created in any form or manner; or pre-intended to center on receiving a Special Recognition Award.

Implementation: In order for an Explorer to be considered for a Special Recognition Award, his/her Advisor must submit a Special Recognition Award Recommendation Application for one of the following award categories: Valor, Bravery, Lifesaving, or Meritorious Service Award. Only one award category may be designated on an application. In the event multiple Explorers were involved in the same event that qualifies for a Special Recognition Award, the Advisor must submit an individual application package for each Explorer.

The Special Recognition Awards application process is as follows:

1. An Advisor determines an Explorer's actions meet or exceed the criteria for one of the Special Recognition Award categories as outlined in Appendix A.

2. The Advisor completes and submits a Special Recognition Award Recommendation Application (Appendix B) and designates on the application one of the following award categories: Valor, Bravery, Lifesaving, or Meritorious Service. The application must be approved/signed by the Explorer's Post Advisor and the chief law enforcement official (defined as Chief, Sheriff or head of agency) of the Post's sponsoring agency.
3. The Advisor submits with the application the following required supporting documentation: law enforcement incident report, Explorer written report describing the incident and actions taken, written reports of witnesses and victim (if available), and any related information available from the responding fire department, Emergency Medical Services unit, etc. News media coverage (print, radio or television) describing the incident and Explorer's actions may also be included with the application package and should be submitted on a DVD or memory device.
4. The Advisor submits, via U.S. Mail or other delivery service, the original application and supporting documents to the national office for Law Enforcement Exploring office in Irving, Texas. Upon receipt of the application package, the national office will duplicate and transmit to the chair and members of the Proficiency Awards and Recognitions subcommittee for review.
5. The Advisor provides a courtesy copy of the application package to the local Learning for Life Exploring Executive for his/her information.
6. The chair and members of the Proficiency Awards and Recognitions subcommittee review the application package and determine if the recommended award is warranted/not warranted, or if another award is more appropriate.
7. The Advisor is notified, via letter, of the subcommittee's decision and a copy of the letter is sent to the chief law enforcement official and Learning for Life Executive. The letter to the Advisor will include a citation certificate prepared by the national office (detailing the action that served as the basis of the award) if an award was approved.
8. The Advisor orders award memorabilia (medal and uniform ribbon bar) from the national office of Law Enforcement Exploring.
